THE SHOW OF FINE FLOWERS.
 Additions to the Exhibit Displaying the Art in Making Beautiful Designs.

Yesterday was another prosperous day at the chrysanthemum show, many visitors enjoying the unusual sight of so large a garden so full of bloom. Among the additional fine floral designs which were placed on exhibition were the floral "T," a large fan, the foundation of which was of chrysanthemums. The sticks were of sweet English violets, and the face decoration was in spray of the La France, Perle de Jardin and Marechal Niel roses, and violets and ferns. The "No Place Like Home" represented in flowers a good story, with its highest point comfortably seated beneath it, smoking a pipe. It was made through the combined efforts of several members of the State Floral Association, and is entirely of flowers and foliage.
 The premiums awarded were: $25 to Chas. Rieman for a lounge of flowers. For the best exhibit of cut chrysanthemums, of 25 varieties, the first premium of $25 was awarded to Fred. Dornier, of Lafayette, and the second premium of $15 was given to Jacob Schultz, of Louisville; $10 for best agricultural implement, and $15 for the best basket of cut flowers were awarded to Fred Dornier, of Lafayette. For the best design of chrysanthemums, Mrs. Charles Rieman took the first premium. The "No Place Like Home" secured $25 to the society. Several new and attractive designs will be added to-day. The musical programme, last night, by Mr. Wm. Zummie's orchestra, was unusually good. Mr. Perry Ingalls played a concert solo, and Mr. Edward Lennox a clarinet solo. The combination of so much good music and so many beautiful flowers is enough to attract lovers of sweet sound and brilliant coloring. A fine flower, which will be found in the east corridor, near the front door, is the "Edward Molyneux." Its petals are a rich red above and golden underneath, and it measures eight inches in diameter. The orchids attract a great deal of attention. No two are alike, even in the remotest particular.
 Christ Before Pilate.
 This famous painting by Munkacsy, which has been seen by millions on both sides of the Atlantic, will arrive in the city this morning. It will occupy for a short time the same position in Plymouth Church as the "Christ on Calvary" did. The unmaking and placing of the picture requires time and great care, but it is hoped to have it ready for the public to-morrow evening.

Local News Notes.

BATTLE OF ATLANTA CYCLOPEDIA.—Market street, between Illinois and Tennessee streets, day and evening.

Dr. Wagner yesterday filed his bond in the sum of $5,000 as coroner of Marion county. His sureties are Levi C. Boskon and A. L. Siskler.

James Lieby, a fugitive from the Reform School, was captured by the police yesterday, and will be returned to the institution to-day.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Thomas A. Clawson and Louie E. Coable, Charles H. Burns and Elizabeth A. Speiser, William W. Stigar and Cora A. Crow, Douglas H. Corlison and Gladys Duham.

Building permits were issued yesterday, to John W. Hamilton, frame cottage, Central avenue, between Ninth and Tenth, 8800; Jeff Linde, frame cottage, 30 Oak, 8250; James Hamilton, improvements, 310 Blake, 8260.

Personal and Society.

The ladies of the Memorial Church will serve dinner, to-day, at 78 East Washington street.

A holder fair will be given at the Mayflower Congregational Church, to-night, by the Young Ladies' Missionary Society.

Mrs. Margaret F. Ogden, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her sisters, the Misses Ford, at 88 North Pennsylvania street.

Mrs. Jesse W. Slicer and Miss Cora A. Crowe were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents at Maywood, last evening.

Miss Small, of Hagerstown, Md., who has been visiting Miss Nannie L. Newcomer for several weeks, returned home yesterday.

Misses Adair and Florence Grandin, of Louisville, are expected next week to make a visit to Mrs. J. L. Fletcher, on North Meridian street.

Mr. D. H. Conlon, foreman of the Western Sportsman, and Miss Gussie Dahms were privately married last night, at 9 P. M., at 166 East North street.

Mrs. Kneller's class at the English Lutheran Church will give an apron fair this evening. Refreshments will be served. Friends of the church are cordially invited.

The members of the Commercial Traveler's Association will meet at the Grand Hotel, to-morrow evening, at 7:30 o'clock, to make arrangements for the annual meeting in January.

Dr. E. C. Reyer, assistant physician at the Hospital for Insane, for the past three years, leaves for New York this morning. He will spend several years in study there and in Europe.

A very pretty entertainment will be given this evening at St. Paul's Church. The young people will give a series of tableaux illustrating Louisiana Alcott's charming story of "Little Women."

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Meridian street M. E. Church will give a missionary tea, at the home of Mrs. W. B. Burford, No. 709 North Meridian street, this afternoon. The ladies will meet at 4:30 P. M., and gentlemen are invited to tea at 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Conde celebrated, last night, with a joyification and a ratification. The invited were fifty gentlemen who voted for Gen. Harrison, and their friends, and the evening was delightfully spent. Mr. and Mrs. Conde's beautiful new home, on Broadway, is well arranged for entertainments.

Master Fred and Miss Mary Forgas arrived, yesterday, from Oak Villa, Fla., to spend the winter with their uncle, Mr. Fred Thomas and wife, on North Delaware street. These young travelers came all the way from Florida by themselves, and were very brave and enjoyed their own independence.

Mr. Paul Putzki is giving an exhibition of the art work by himself and pupils at his studio, No. 437 North Mississippi street, for three days, beginning yesterday. The work consists of oil and water-color painting, and rare and beautiful designs are used, both in the form of the china and the decoration. Among those who have a display are Mrs. Ben. Harrison, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. D. W. Coffin, Mrs. E. L. McKee, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Coffin, Mrs. Walker, Miss Lois Birra, Miss Louise Leuders, Miss Pearl Landers, Miss Mary Atkins, Miss Fugate, Miss Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Putzki. No description would give an adequate idea of the beauty of the painting. No word could describe the smoothness of finish, the perfection of coloring, the exquisite shading and the unique designs and great variety. The collection of studies in water-colors are gems in themselves.

A large number of visitors were present yesterday, notwithstanding the true London weather, and were more than repaid. The exhibition is open each day, from 9 in the morning till 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

MANLEY SHAW.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
 Mr. CARMEI, III., Nov. 15.—To-night, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Edith Shaw, one of Mr. Carmel's popular teachers and society ladies, was wedded to Prof. A. P. Manley, county superintendent of public schools. It was a most enjoyable and fashionable affair. There were a great many guests and a vast number of valuable and useful presents.

GROTEGGER-KILLER.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
 WABASH, Nov. 15.—The wedding of Mathias Grotegger, who resides near Pontiac, Ill., and Mrs. L. Miller, took place in this city this afternoon, the ceremony being performed by George Russell. The couple were acquainted in youth, and both have been married before. The groom is in his sixty-seventh year and the bride forty-six.

WARD-WHEELER.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
 NOBLESVILLE, Nov. 15.—An event of interest to society people here was the marriage, to-day, of Mr. C. B. Ward, of Indianapolis, a traveling salesman, and Miss Nannie G. Wheeler, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wheeler, of this city, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. S. Ravensburgh, of the Presbyterian Church.

The company present was large, and testified of the great popularity and high esteem with which the bride and groom are held by their friends and relatives. Several friends from Indianapolis and other cities were in attendance. The bride and groom were the recipients of many elegant and expensive presents. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Ward left for Chicago and Milwaukee, and after their trip will make their home in Noblesville.

Report from the Prison North.

Warden Murdoch, of the Prison North, yesterday filed his quarterly report of receipts and expenditures, showing that the former, with earnings, amounted in August to $9,590.45, in September to $8,938.25, and in October to $10,159.45. These sums, with the cash on hand July 1, 1893, $10,446.19, give a total of $39,104.30. The expenditures during the quarter were: In August $7,372.28, September $5,947.30, October $8,178.63. There is a balance due the prison from the last quarter of $1,197.13, and vouchers were filed amounting to $7,364.33, representing the cost of reducing the shoe factory. The warden, Nov. 1, had $9,042.62 cash on hand. While the prison is self-sustaining, its appropriation for 1893 has been exhausted, and the money it has now from the State creates a deficiency which will have to be met by the next General Assembly.

The Lecture Season.

The managers of the Indianapolis lecture course have secured six exceptionally good entertainments, and propose to give them all for one dollar. The first entertainment will be given at Tomlinson Hall, Nov. 30, by the Camilla Uro Concert Company, and it will be followed during the winter by Mary A. Livermore, Lieutenant Schwatka, Mrs. Scott Siddons, Fred A. Ober and Felix Adler. Course tickets, that secure seats without extra charge, will be on sale at D. H. Baldwin & Co.'s to-morrow morning.

The Blundering Postal Force.

A letter plainly addressed to the VanCamp Packing House was sent to a house on North Meridian street yesterday. A lady who gave a large reception a short time since sent her inquiries by mail. She is still hearing from friends who have "just received them"—several days after the social event. Profiting by this, a lady this week issued invitations for a similar entertainment and had them delivered by the district messenger service, being unwilling to trust the postoffice.

Funeral of Dr. Culbertson.

The funeral of Dr. J. W. Culbertson, who died suddenly in this city Monday morning, occurred yesterday, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Richmond. Around the bier were placed tokens of sympathy and condolence, contributed by mourning friends, several hundred of whom filled the auditorium and listened to the eloquent tribute as spoken by Rev. Hallam. The remains were placed in the vault at Earlham.

GENERAL HARRISON'S VISITORS.

A Delegation from Illinois and Knights of Labor Delegates Pay Their Respects.

General Harrison had a large number of callers yesterday. The first visitors were about one hundred and fifty Republicans from Galesburg, Ill. Colonel Clark E. Carr and Congressman Philip S. Post were at the head of the delegation, and among other prominent members of the party were editor Beatty, of the Galesburg Register, and Dr. D. W. Aldrich, Mayor of that city. A drizzling rain having set in early in the morning, making it inconvenient for such a large party to go to the Harrison residence, the President-elect came down to the New-Denison, just before noon and received the visitors in the parlors of the hotel. There were no speeches. General Harrison shook hands with each one, after which the band that accompanied the Galesburg people played a choice selection of two.

In the afternoon the General was visited by H. C. Choate, president of the Union Veterans Club, of Hamilton County, Ohio, Frank G. Johnson, secretary of the same organization, and Dr. James M. Ayers. They came to see if he would fix a day when their club could call upon him. The General said that if he fixed a day for one organization he would be called upon to do so for all, but he would gladly welcome the Union veterans at any time they choose to come to Indianapolis. Under the circumstances, which the committee appreciated, he could not name any time for receiving them. The visitors conferred with the General, and said they will probably select some day in the near future for the visit of the club. During the day a delegation from Rochester, Fulton county, came to the city.

At 8:30 o'clock last night, fifty-nine of the delegates to the General Assembly, K. of L., marched up to the Harrison home, and congratulated the General on his election. Their reception was of the most informal character. General Harrison did not know they were coming until a few moments before their arrival. Mrs. Harrison was not present, having gone to the usual Thursday night prayer-meeting. The other ladies of the family, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Russell Harrison, Mrs. R. M. Brown and Miss Strickland, were attending a family musicale at their next-door neighbor, Mr. John Shaw's, so that General Harrison and his stenographer were the only occupants of the lower rooms when the Knights of Labor called. Among the prominent members were ex-Secretary Charles H. Litchman, who acted as master of ceremonies and introduced his brethren to the President-elect, James Campbell, President of the Western Glass-workers' Association, James H. Magee, president of the Surface Railroad Employers' Association of the United States—an organization with a membership of over ten thousand; Louis Arvington, president of the Western District Bottle-blowers' Association, and Mr. A. Delatelle, delegate from the State Assembly of Belgium.

The introductions having concluded, the party dispersed about the parlors and hallways, examining the many campaign relics and curiosities. This closed the visits of the day.

AMUSEMENTS.

GOODWIN AT THE GRAND.

The popular comedian, N. C. Goodwin, opened his engagement at the Grand, last night, appearing in a double bill, "Royal Revenge" and "Confusion." He had a fine audience to greet him and his excellent company. No actor has advanced more rapidly in the legitimate comedy to which he has applied since discarding the sketches in which he made his fame than Mr. Goodwin. His performances have an artistic excellence and finish that promise for him a place among the famous comedians of the school. Mr. Goodwin will appear to-night in "Lend Me Five Shillings" and "Turned Up."

There will be a change of bill at the Park to-day, Mr. Amlier and his company presenting the sensational comedy "Cocotte" and "The House of the Dead."

Barney Baldwin, the man with a broken neck, is attracting the curious by the hundreds at the Eden Musee, and will remain all the week.

Mr. Ezra F. Kendall, one of the best of eccentric comedians, will be at Esplanade's the first part of next week in "A Fair Kid," a piece that is full of entertainment. The advance sale will begin to-morrow.

A Notable Attraction.

One of the things likely to attract attention at the Flower Mission fair next week, is the rich tapestry painting which has been in the famous "Dark Room" of Eastman, Schleicher & Lee. Until the fair this noted work of art can be seen in the show-window of Messrs. Eastman & Co. It will become the property of the person selling the greatest number of tickets for the fair. Here is a chance for ladies to do a good work and at the same time secure a handsome work of art for the home; or a chance for gentlemen to buy tickets enough to "come in ahead" and so make a present of this tapestry painting. Tickets for this purpose, in any quantity, for sale only at Eastman, Schleicher & Lee's. The contest will not close until the fair is over.
